

Privacy Policy

Last updated: February 2026

This Privacy Policy describes how personal information is collected, used, and shared when you visit Smoke in the Kitchen (the “Site”).

1. Information We Collect

When you visit the Site, we may collect limited personal information, including:

- Contact Information: such as your name and email address when you sign up for newsletters, updates, or contact forms
- Usage Data: information about how you interact with the Site (pages visited, time spent, browser type)
- Cookies and Similar Technologies: to support analytics and improve user experience

We do not knowingly collect personal information from children under the age of 13.

2. How We Use Your Information

We use your information to:

- Communicate with you about the book, events, or updates
- Respond to inquiries or messages
- Improve the performance and content of the Site
- Understand audience engagement through analytics

We do not sell, rent, or trade your personal information.

3. Third-Party Services

This Site may use trusted third-party services such as:

- Website hosting (Wix)
- Analytics tools
- Embedded media (e.g., YouTube)

These services may collect data according to their own privacy policies.

4. Your Rights

Depending on your location, you may have the right to:

- Request access to your personal data
- Request correction or deletion of your data
- Withdraw consent for communications at any time

You can unsubscribe from emails using the link provided in any message.

5. Data Security

Reasonable measures are being taken to protect your information, but no online transmission is 100% secure.

6. Changes to This Policy

This policy may be updated occasionally. Any changes will be posted on this page.
